

MONTROSE

B I O

MONTROSE was formed in 1973 by Ronnie Montrose and Sammy Hagar... Throughout the 70's and 80's the band went through several incarnations, but continued to play classics like "Rock Candy", "Bad Motor Scooter", "Rock The Nation", and "Space Station #5".

Ronnie's guitar genius in MONTROSE along with legendary rock records he participated on and helped create earned him the title of "Rock and Roll Guitar Legend"... MONTROSE the band pioneered and influenced an entire generation of Rock and Roll from the West Coast of the U.S. by firing out big guitar riffs and soulful dynamic vocals with extreme "attitude!"... MONTROSE is well known as hard rock's predecessor to Van Halen and the Sunset Strip rock explosion of the mid '80's...

Picking up where Sammy left off is well-qualified singer / frontman Keith St. John. Keith has been sited by MONTROSE followers and indeed both Sammy and Ronnie as the one guy who can fill those shoes! Keith's dynamic vocal energy and stage presence brings to mind the likes of Roger Daltrey, Paul Rodgers, and Robert Plant...

Ronnie and Keith have been playing MONTROSE songs off and on since 2000 and have been joined at various times onstage by drummers and bass players from other legendary bands including Kiss, Alice Cooper, Mr. Big, Pat Benatar, Megadeth, Y&T and more. The current line up includes veteran players Mick Brown – drums (Dokken / Ted Nugent) and Sean McNabb – bass (Quiet Riot / Great White.)

Gene Simmons was quoted as saying "Every night before every Kiss show we listen to the first MONTROSE album for inspiration before we go onstage." This MONTROSE show is the best it's ever been... The band always leaves fans shouting for more!
